Sacha P. Nathan, multi-disciplined independent director/filmmaker, writer/author, photographer, and musician.

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Strong foundation in cross-disciplined technical and creative skills, spanning concept to execution, and delivery. Well versed, adaptive, and aiming for the bleeding edge, with solid groundwork in both digital and analogue use cases, covering a range of software, hardware, and systems. A philosophy reflecting the same themes as those explored, utilising and encouraging a mindful ethical environment and values, through common sense, critical/lateral thinking across multiple scenarios, taking into consideration a balance of efficiency, productivity and quality of life.

- Solid creative foundations in narrative/language styles/formats, and strong writing fundamentals across a multitude of storytelling structures, from linear/non-linear to adaptive/interactive experiences across different media.
- An evocative visual language honed to facilitate powerful theatre of the mind, in compelling realities through cathartic content of substance.
- A blend of creative/technical proficiency, offering adaptive and analytical well rounded solutions and results.
- Wide-ranging technical knowledge of real world scenarios and use cases, and familiarity with hardware, software, firmware, and systems solutions, whether open-source, closed-source, or proprietary.
- Effective communication and management across different fields, for efficient workflow, organisation, and coordination of personnel and workloads, in relation to time-frames and budget conditions.
